Claims That Fighting Is Going on Near the Yalu Today--Capturing Japs.

EXPULSION OF MANY ODESSA STUDENTS

Put Some on a Diet of Bread and Water, for Being Against the Government's Politics--General War News.

[Special by Scripps-Mellae.]
London, March 19.—A Chefoo correspondent of the Reuter Telegrams company states in a private dispatch that the Russians and Japs are having a fierce battle on the banks of the Yalu and that the Russians claim to have captured eighteen hundred prisoners.

per Dzien learns that 270 students of Odessa university have been expelled because of their hostile attitude towards the government. A hundred were arrested and seventy others placed upon a diet of bread and water.

To Invade China

London, March 19.—The correspondent of the Standard at Tien Tsin says: M. Lessar, the Russian minister at Peking, has renewed his protest against the despatch of Chinese forces beyond the great wall. He requests their withdrawal and intimates that otherwise Russia will be compelled to assume that China is abandoning her neutrality in favor of Japan. M. Lessar renews his threat that, on the slightest movement on the part of China, Russia will march troops to Peking. It is understood the Chinese government has refused to recall the soldiers.

Extend the News

Port Arthur, March 19.—According to information received from Russians at Shanghai during the fighting at Port Arthur Feb. 19 and 11 the Japanese battleship Mikasa was struck by ten projectiles and seriously damaged, two Japanese battleships and two cruisers have been docked for repairs at Nagasaki and Sasebo and 2,000 wounded men are said to be in the Japanese hospitals. All the Russian wounded and sick at Port Arthur are making good progress toward recovery. Last night and today passed quietly.

Ship Destroyers

St. Petersburg, March 19.—Ten destroyers of 350 tons each, built here, are being sent by railroad, in pieces, toward Port Arthur. Each destroyer requires two trains. Three thousand mechanics are going to reconstruct them.

Military men are confident of the inability of the Japanese to land forces at Port Arthur or Dalgay, declaring two attempts already have been repulsed. The report that destroyer Skori was sunk by a mine at Port Arthur is officially denied.

There is general dissatisfaction over the management of the Red Cross and other funds. Members of the aristocracy, officers of the guards and court ladies are employed in the administration of the funds at extravagant salaries. They oppose the funds being audited by state officials. Many large subscribers to the funds are demanding that they be allowed to control the expenditure of their money. The town of Saratoff offers to build a battleship on that understanding only.

General War News

Seoul—Marquis Ito had a formal audience with the emperor in the council hall in the presence of the court.

San Francisco—The Toyo Kisin

the Vatican organ, denies the statement that the congregation of the propaganda has instructed missionaries in Japan to help the Japanese secretly.

London, March 19.—The report comes from St. Petersburg that the Vladivostok squadron dynamited its way through the ice in the harbor last Tuesday and put to sea.

The report states, further, that it is conjectured at St. Petersburg that the fleet has gone to Saghalien island.

If the news is true it proves that the squadron was really inside the harbor at Vladivostok when the Japanese fleet bombarded that port on March 6.

The statement that Admiral Reltzenstein has taken his fleet to Saghalien island is not credited here. Naval experts believe he will try to effect a juncture with the main squadron at Port Arthur.

Confirmation From Paris.

A dispatch to a Paris newspaper from St. Petersburg declares that the squadron left Vladivostok seventy-two hours ago, but that Russian officials will give no hint of its destination.

A dispatch from Sevastopol states that five of the best of the eight Black sea battleships are being overhauled with a view to the possibility of circumstances enabling their addition to the Baltic fleet when it sails for the far east in June. There is evidence that Russia intends to try and solve the Dardanelles difficulty to its own advantage before or when the Baltic fleets start.

Newchwang Ready to Resist.

All advices from the far East indicate that Russia is making hurried preparations to resist a Japanese attack upon Newchwang.

It seems to be conceded by the Russians that Japan has landed a large force of troops in the Liaoting gulf, and that Newchwang is to be the first objective.

The mystery in the movements of the Japanese transport fleet has concealed all the facts, but from time to time the Russians have admitted that transport steamers have been seen on the west coast of the Liaoting peninsula.

Threatens to Attack Peking.

A Tientsin telegram says that Paul Lessar, Russian minister to China, has renewed his protest against the dispatch of Chinese forces outside the great wall, and intimated that unless they are withdrawn Russia may be compelled to act on the assumption that China is abandoning her neutrality in favor of Japan. The minister is also reported to have renewed his threat that on the slightest movement on China's part Russian troops will march on Peking. It is understood that in reply to this the correspondent adds China refused to recall her troops.

No Japs North of Yalu.

A report from Newchwang asserts that there are no Japanese north of the Yalu river, and that not any of their scouts have been seen there since the beginning of March. On the other hand, the Russians are reported to have crossed the Yalu to the south, leaving a small force to guard the river.

Many Rumors

St. Petersburg, March 19.—The Russian troops continue to pour into North Korea and are in excellent condition. It is said here that the Japanese are broken down by typhus fever.

Berlin, March 19.—The Vossische Zeitung reports that Major Inhoff of the Russian headquarters has been discovered selling military secrets to the Japanese and has been publicly degraded and shot.

Political Prisoners Escape
New York, March 19.—The Herald dispatches from Seoul, Korea, say that thirty political prisoners in the city prison emboldened by the sight of the execution of criminals made a bold dash for liberty and escaped, on Wednesday last, after a fight with the guards.

In a declamatory contest between pupils of the West Bend high school first place was awarded to Walter Schroeder and second to Rose Krieger.

Fifty Detroit real estate owners have formed an association to protect themselves against unworthy tenants. Much complaint is made because of the way some persons misuse the houses they occupy.

Wenzel Groschnek, aged 62 years, living near La Crosse, committed suicide by placing the muzzle of a shotgun in his mouth and blowing off the top of his head. Despondency, due to ill health, was the cause.

At the Jefferson school, in Racine, damaged by fire on Thursday night, the flames broke out twice on Friday. In the first instance the blaze was put out with a lawn hose, but the second time the fire department was called. The damage was light.

The Green Bay, Oshkosh, Madison and Southwestern railroad company has asked the city of Oshkosh to subscribe for $10,000 of bonds of the company. The same proposition was made to Madison recently, and it is believed the road will ask the other cities on the proposed line to extend aid.

Authorities of Mount Pleasant, in which the pesthouse belonging to the city of Racine is situated, have taxed the property $20. Town assessors claim this is not so, and that unless the city pays the tax the property will be turned in as delinquent and sold.

The report that Lord Miner, the British high commissioner in south Africa, had cancelled the permit issued to William T. Stead, the English writer, to travel in south Africa, owing to the character of the speeches recently delivered by Mr. Stead, is officially denied.

COTTON PRICE IS WAY DOWN

Sully's Failure Has Created a Panic in New York and New Orleans.

DOES NOT AFFECT WHEAT THOUGH

Claim Is Made That the Ex-Cotton King Has Saved a Snug Fortune From the Great Financial Wreck of Friday.

[Special by Scripps-Mellae.]
New York, March 19.—Daniel J. Sully & Co. this morning made a formal assignment for the benefit of their creditors to Joseph H. Hoadley. D. Sully's losses cannot be estimated until after the close of the cotton market today. His contracts of settlement will be made out on the basis of today's prices. Friends of the former cotton king claim that he has saved a snug fortune from the crash. It is estimated that last year he made five millions clear.

No Effect
Chicago, March 19.—The expected

on and many crashes I've been recorded, but none has been accompanied by such frenzy and confusion. Soon the news reached the stock, produce and coffee exchanges, and traders on these markets hastened to the scene of the panic. Crowds assailed the entrance to the visitors' gallery, but a double guard was placed at the doors and admittance was refused to all but those accompanied by members.

It was estimated that something like three-quarters of a million bales break in the wheat market due to the crash in cotton did not materialize this morning. May wheat was a quarter higher and other options proportionately higher.

Bad Break Comes
Liverpool, March 19.—The cotton market opened forty points below last night's quotations as a result of the failure of Daniel Sully.

In New York
New York, March 19.—The prices of cotton here were five points down to twenty-four points above last night's closing. The stock market opened stronger and steadier. It is not believed that Sully's suspension will involve any stockholders.

Quick Change in Prices.
The crash came with the suddenness and fury of a tornado, for the meteorologists of the cotton market were unable to read the premonitions of disaster in the strange barometric conditions of the forenoon. Ten minutes after the opening the market went off half a cent. Prices went down—ten, twenty, thirty points in two minutes. A minute later they were back where they started. May opened at 15.25 cents and sold down to 14.75 cents in less than fifteen minutes, while July, opening at 15.22 cents, went down to 14.86. Towards the end of the first half hour early sellers started to cover, and there was a rapid advance. There was nothing to account for the excitement. It seemed merely a renewal of bear operations and the catching of further stop orders. No one thought of taking to the cyclone cellar.

Firm Announces Suspension.
Shortly after the afternoon session, however, there was a lull in the pit, and at about 2:05 o'clock the announcement of the suspension was made by Superintendent King, who read from the rostrum this notice:

"We regret that we are unable to meet our engagements and will therefore have to suspend.
"Daniel J. Sully & Co."

For a few seconds there was an ominous quiet over the floor, as though the news had stunned all within hearing of the announcement. Then, with one impulse, a mighty shout went up from the bears. They had awaited that moment for months. Hats were thrown into the air to fall where they would, a moment later to be trampled upon by the stampede for the pit. Cries were torn by frantic brokers in their mad efforts to unload their holdings, and chairs and camp stools were dashed into the air to emphasize some wild broker's offer to sell.

Panic in the Pits.
Scenes such as followed the announcement of the failure it has been the privilege of few brokers to witness before. Traders in the street have witnessed stock panics in previous years; corners have been broken of cotton were traded in during the twenty minutes of the panic that followed the announcement, and that of this upward of half a million bales represented "forced liquidation" or the selling out of men whose margins have been nearly or quite wiped out. As the market slumped 250 points during this period, the loss falling on this element amounted to something more than a million dollars.

The market steadied after about twenty minutes, and then there was a sudden upward shoot of about an even 100 points, brought about by the buying of brokers and speculators, who saw that the market had slumped too far and would react. A part of the excitement on the floor of the exchange was caused by the scramble of brokers who wanted just such bargains and had to fight to get in the ring to get them.

Break in Stocks.
There was considerable of a flurry on the floor of the New York stock exchange after the news reached there. Mr. Sully is a member of that exchange, having purchased a seat two or three months ago. Stocks went off from half a point to a point and one-half on the fear that the failure might bring a rush of stock selling there. The weakness was only momentary, however, for the word was passed around that Sully had not been trading in stocks.

Mr. Sully went into conference with counsel, and later Edwin Hadley, Jr., of Providence, R. I., one of the members of the firm, was quoted as stating that the firm would pay its debts in full and the suspension was due to the impossibility of meeting demands for large sums of money due the Sully firm from European sources.

The losses by Sully's failure, in case he cannot settle, will be divided up among nearly all the brokers on the exchange. One estimate was that Sully's owing after a settlement under the rule of the exchange would not exceed $500,000. What Sully has personally lost, or what his backers have lost in market operations is not included in this figure.

Other Markets Firm.
There were no other announcements of failures and leading men in the cotton market declared that there need be no fear of trouble.

In stock exchange circles the failure of Sully was at first taken as a sure sign of the collapse of the cotton boom. Later there was some apprehension lest the failure might bring down a string of banking institutions in the south.

The coffee market slumped and rose with the cotton market last month, but it was significant that the announcement of Sully's suspension caused only a slight break in coffee.

Sully & Co. have or had deposits with several banks and trust companies in this city.

PRIESTS HAVE ENTERED LISTS

Father Hanz of Beloit, and Father Goebel of Janesville, to Compete.

One of the most spirited contests in connection with the bazaar to be held next month in Beloit for the benefit of St. Mary's hospital will be that between Rev. Joseph Hanz of that city and Rev. W. A. Goebel of St. Mary's church in Janesville, to decide which is the more popular priest. As Janesville and Beloit have indulged in some warm contests in the past, the present one promises to be no exception to the rule.

Both Father Goebel and Father Hanz are exceedingly popular in their respective cities. Father Goebel enjoys the advantage of longer residence, but when the ballots are counted it is safe to say they will show that Father Hanz has lost no time in making friends since he went to Beloit as the assistant of Rev. M. J. Ward.

MORMONS ARE NOT ALL POLYGAMISTS

Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints Do Not Believe in It.

Walter Wellman, the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Record-Herald, recently wrote an article on Smoot and Mormonism in which he defined the difference between Utah Mormonism and various other similar faiths, which do not practice polygamy, and who denounce it as strenuously as do the people of any other faith.

One of these organizations known as Latter Day Saints with headquarters at Lehi, Iowa, is known as the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Members of congress from Iowa who know these people say that no citizens of the state are more highly esteemed. Members of this church in Iowa and other states are imploring the committee to give them a chance to appear before congress and prove that President Joseph Smith of Utah falsified himself regarding the original Joseph Smith, who they claim was not a polygamist.

The Latter Day Saints are unfortunate in having at their head a man by the name of Smith. While there may not be very much in a name, it has led to endless controversy and annoyance in this case.

There has been a society of Latter Day Saints in Janesville for a number of years and while it is not numerically strong, it is composed of good people who enjoy the confidence of the community.

In the State of Colorado Was Presented by J. A. Sandall, at Assembly Hall Last Evening.

A graphic picture of the state of affairs existing among the miners of Colorado was given by J. A. Sandall of Victor before a large audience at Assembly hall last evening. The address was especially interesting owing to the fact that Mr. Sandall has himself been a miner for many years and was one of the number confined in the bull-pen under a strong military guard for many days. The seizing of the daily newspaper by the militia, the proclamation of martial law, the escort of 300 cavalry and 400 foot-soldiers that accompanied the seventy-six union men taken to Cripple Creek for trial, the failure of the presiding judge to convict a single man, the taking back of the men to the bull-pen under orders of Governor Peabody, the search of miners' homes for firearms and the ill-treatment of wives and children by the soldiery, were some of the phases of the situation that were vividly portrayed. In Colorado City, the speaker said that the miners were compelled to live in huts and holes in the ground that Janesville people would consider unfit for their horses and dogs.

Mr. Ferris, who lives at Columbus, will represent Wisconsin in the interstate contest at Richmond, Ind., on May 10, with Mr. Paville as alternate.

BELOIT IS NOT ON THE MAPS

Clinton Gets Out Letter Head That Ignore the Line City Entirely.

Beloit is not deemed worthy a place on the map of Rock county and vicinity by some people living at Clinton. Business men of the little town east of Beloit are sending out envelopes with a map on the back of them, and these maps utterly ignore the fact that such a place as Beloit exists at all.

These maps are intended as advertising for Clinton. As they go journeying over the commercial world they will carry the impression that it is the most important place in southern Wisconsin or northern Illinois, if men allow their judgment to be influenced by the size of the star that marks its place in the world. Clinton is marked by a star that makes the lesser luminaries of Janesville, Madison and Rockford and other villages in the neighborhood look like fireflies in comparison. But Beloit is not there at all.

REPRESENTATIVES FORTY YEARS AGO

A. A. Jackson, James Sutherland and A. K. Cutts Were Prominent in Republican Causes.

Forty years ago last night A. A. Jackson of this city was chairman of the republican first ward caucus; he also was present at the meeting of the first ward caucus last evening held at the west side fire station. He was as active and as interested in the work of his party as he was in his younger days. In the second ward proceedings of the same year is noticed among the names of some of our prominent citizens of today, James Sutherland and A. K. Cutts who was a candidate for constable. Mr. Cutts was in attendance at the second ward caucus held last evening at the east side fire station and was at the polls long before the hour of opening, and was an active worker for the nomination of constable, which office he has held for a number of years. In our Forty Years Ago column readers can find a full account of the first and second ward caucuses held in this city March 19, 1864.

Athletics Are at Present at a Stand-Still—Snow Delays Outdoor Practice Today.

Coach Kilpatrick has announced that the University of Wisconsin would not be represented this year with a team in the great intercollegiate relay races at Philadelphia. He said the reason was that the badgers had not got enough mile runners to warrant the taking of a team east. Another sufficient reason is the poverty of the badger athletic association, which has not now enough cash on hand to pay the salaries of the coaches for the present year, having sustained net losses aggregating $8,000 during the year past.

Delay Team
The great fall of snow that spread over Wisconsin and the northwest has handicapped the Wisconsin university baseball team, delaying the commencement of out door practice two weeks beyond the time of the first real diamond work last year. The coach, "Benjamin Pearce" of the St. Paul League team, has not yet been approved by the faculty athletic council and he refuses full charge of the work until formally installed by the faculty. This also has handicapped the badger nine. The practice is being held daily in the baseball cage in the gymnasium and the candidates now number over sixty, some of the material being said to be close to the professional edge.

Bowling Team
The Greek letter fraternities of the University of Wisconsin propose to organize a western intercollegiate bowling league and hold a tournament next winter. Bowling has thrived this winter at Madison, a league being maintained by the fraternities and plans are nearly perfected for the organization of an intercollegiate league.

Hard at Work
Dr. J. C. Elson, director of the University of Wisconsin gymnasium and manager of the intercollegiate gymnastic contests to be held here March 26, is relying on the appearance at the meeting of the Minnesota University team, notwithstanding the reports that the gophers would go to the eastern meet that date in preference to taking part in the show at Madison. The western meet, was postponed because of the occupancy of the gymnasium by state house furnishings in consequence of the capitol fire. The date of the postponed meet was set for the same time that the eastern meet is schedule to occur at which Minnesota had planned to take part.

Will Row Here
The determination of the Duluth Boat Club to race the badgers during the semi-centennial celebration here in June has given the aquatic department an impetus, as the refusal of Cornell to send here crews and the lack of money making doubtful the trip of the badgers east had caused the candidates for the varsity and freshmen crews to lose interest. Duluth proposes to enter in the eight and four oared events for one, two and three miles.

The Centennial
"We will be talked to death," is the expression of those who have studied the elaborate plans for the semi-centennial jubilee of the Wisconsin University. Orations, addresses and papers by the visiting delegates from all parts of the world who have already identified their intentions of accepting the invitations are in such numbers as to indicate that to the professors the meeting will be a literary and scientific feast and the ordinary alumnus a process of being talked to death. So general has been the acceptance as to cause the entertainment committee to become sorely tried already in the problem of providing sufficient hotel and board-house accommodations. And this too accounts largely for the apathy shown by the university and city authorities in the matter of securing as suggested the annual convention of the colleges usually held in Chicago. A special auxiliary committee of 100 women has been organized, to assist the entertainment committee the executive board of which includes the wives of governor R. M. La Follette, William F. Allen, Prof. Burr W. Jones, Frank W. Allis and Justice Samuel H. Marshall.

A Recipe From the Forest.
When the Oak leaf is the size of a Squirrel's foot take a stick like a Crow's bill and make holes as big as a Coon's ear and as wide apart as Fox tracks. Then plant your corn, that it may ripen before the Chestnut splits and the Woodchuck begins his winter's sleep.—From Ernest Thompson Seton's "Fable and Woodmyth" in the Century.

QUARLES FOR SECOND PLACE

Vice Presidential Boom for the Junior Wisconsin Senator Started in Washington.

"I am not a candidate for the vice presidency," said Senator Quarles, smilingly, when his attention was called to the boom launched for him by Representative Charles B. Landis of Indiana. Mr. Landis was discussing the report connecting the name of Senator Fairbanks with the second place on the ticket. "There are many available men," he said. "I know of none more popular than Senator Quarles, and believe that his nomination would be generally acceptable to republicans." Mr. Quarles received numerous inquiries today concerning the matter, but he indicated to all that he regarded the suggestion only as a joke.

SEEKS HELP IN FINDING BOY

Advertisement Which It is Hoped Will Lead to Discovery of Johnny Templeton's Whereabouts.

Wanted information—Johnny Templeton, aged 14, left his home on Chatham street last August. Any information as to his whereabouts will be greatly appreciated by Father Goebel.

The above article appeared in the want column of last evening's Gazette. It recalls the story of Johnny Templeton, who disappeared from the home of aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Peters, on Chatham street, last August. One afternoon Johnny, after his lunch with his aunt, told her that he had work to do for a lady cutting her grass, and left home and has not been seen or heard of since.

Bright Active Boy
The little fellow was a bright active boy and had a good home with his uncle and aunt and no cause could be given for his disappearance. For many weeks his aunt hoped he would return home of his free will, but his failure to do this led to an insertion of an article that might induce the boy to return home. Failing in this, Father Goebel was appealed to and the above notice sent. A broadcast throughout the state in hopes that Johnny may somewhere see it and notify his uncle or aunt of his whereabouts.

May Be On Farm
The little fellow may be on a farm somewhere throughout the state as he has often expressed a desire to live on a farm. He was a bright little student and a good boy. His absence has sadly grieved his relatives who fear he will be lost to them for ever.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passages, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a Home of Swamp-Root pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

For such we say that Scott's Emulsion provides the right kind of a coat. Why? Because Scott's Emulsion builds firm, solid flesh and supplies just enough fat to fill nature's requirements—no more. That means bodily warmth.

HARMONY IN CONVENTION

ALL CANDIDATES SELECTED BY UNANIMOUS VOTE.

CAPT. NORCROSS PAYS TRIBUTE

To Memory of Late Mayor Lovejoy, and Expresses Deep Sorrow Over Condition of Mayor A. O. Wilson.

For treasurer, Jas. A. Fathers, City attorney, William Rager, Jr. School Commissioner, W. S. Jeffers, Justice of peace, Jesse Earle. No contest for any office developed at the meeting of the republican city convention this afternoon and all the nominees were selected by a unanimous vote. M. O. Mount called the convention to order and after the call had been read Capt. Piny Norcross was made temporary chairman and J. L. Bear secretary. In placing in nomination the name of William Rager, Jr. for city attorney, W. J. McIntyre said that he believed him to be well qualified for the position to which he aspires and that the city's interests would be well guarded if the convention's action were ratified at the polls. No other nominating speeches were made.

The City Committee. On motion Chairman Norcross appointed the following city committee: 1st ward, S. B. Hedges; 2d ward, C. S. Valentino; 3d ward, W. J. McIntyre; 4th ward, A. G. Anderson; 5th ward, Fred Jeffers. Malcolm O. Mount was made member at large and chairman of the city committee. The committee was authorized by a motion to fill any vacancies in its own body.

Tributes Offered. In a few well-chosen words after the business session was finished, Capt. Norcross paid a tribute to the memory of Former Mayor Lovejoy and also expressed his deep sorrow over the condition of Mayor A. O. Wilson who, it is feared, is at the brink of the grave.

Urges United Effort. Returning once more to the business at hand he said that he had examined the list of ward candidates and that in his opinion every one of them would be a credit to the city if elected. The hard work was yet to be done. This was a presidential year and all republicans should make a special effort to elect the full city ticket.

ALL IS CROW-TALK IN CLERK'S OFFICE

One Boy Is Looking for Man Who Offered Bounty on Live Ones—County Asked to Send Dray.

Little besides crow-talk can be heard in County Clerk Starr's office these days. All kinds of inquiries are coming in over the telephone and they are all about crows. This morning a small boy called up to find out the name of the Janesville man who was offering a bounty of fifteen cents for live crows. Said he had some and was undecided as to whether he would kill them or not. Mr. Wikom is said to be the man who made the offer. Yesterday afternoon a lady called up and asked if the county would please send a wagon after a couple of hundred crows killed in the city. She wanted to know whether or not they were to be certified before the supervisor from her ward. As the law passed by the county board makes no specific provision for birds killed in the city limits, it may be necessary to export them.

FLOCK OF DUCKS NEAR ICE HOUSE

Was Routed by Small Boys This Morning—Shooting Season Opens on April 11.

This morning a big flock of ducks dispersed themselves in the river in the vicinity of Talis' ice-house until small boys arrived on the scene with firearms and stones and dispatched several of the number. A spectator reports that seven out of the flock were killed. The incident offers a suggestion for the game-wars. The open season for spring shooting begins on April 11 and closes on April 24. During that time all game, except mallard, teal and wood duck, may be shot. The new law says that only 15 birds can be killed each day by one hunter. Wild geese can also be hunted during the open season. During the general closed season between March 1 and May 25, no fish caught in inland waters can be sold, offered for sale or shipped. Reports from the deputy wardens show that ducks are beginning to appear in the southern part of the state. Licenses are good for one year from September 1, but they really expire after the spring shooting, as the same is all protected from that time until the fall open season starts in September.

Moran of the Lady Letty

By FRANK NORRIS.
Author of "The Octopus," "The Pit," Etc.

Copyright, 1898, by S. S. McClure Company

But there was little time to think of themselves. On board the bark the sails were still set. The squall struck the Lady Letty squarely aback. She heeled over upon the instant, then, as the top hamper, carried away with a crash, eased back a moment upon an even keel. But her cargo had shifted. The bark was doomed. Through the flying spray and scud and rain Wilbur had a momentary glimpse of Kitchell backing at the landward with his ax. Then the Lady Letty capsize, going over till her masts were flat with the water, and in another second rolled bottom up. For a moment her keel and red iron bottom were visible through the mist of driving spray. Suddenly they sank from sight. She was gone. And then, like the rolling up of a scroll, the squall passed, the sun returned, the sky burned back to blue, the ruggedness was smoothed from the ocean, and the warmth of the tropics closed around the Bertha Miller, once more rolling easily on the swell of the ocean.

She was herself again.

Of the Lady Letty and the drunken benevolence captain not a trace remained. Kitchell had gone down with his prize. The Bertha Miller's Chinese crew huddled forward, talking wildly, pointing and looking in a bewildered fashion over the sides. Wilbur and Moran were left alone on the open Pacific.

CHAPTER V.

WHEN Wilbur came on deck the morning after the sinking of the bark he was surprised to find the schooner under way again. Wilbur and Charlie had berthed forward during that night, Charlie with the hands, Wilbur in the captain's hammock. The reason for this change of quarters had been found in a peremptory order from Moran during the dog watch the preceding evening.

She had looked squarely at Wilbur from under her scowl and had said briefly and in a fine contralto voice that he had for the first time noticed "her berth aft in the cabin; you and the Chinaman forward. Understand?" Moran had only forestalled Wilbur's intention, while after her almost miraculous piece of seamanship in the rescue of the schooner Charlie and the Chinese crew accorded her a respect that was almost superstitious.

Wilbur met her again at breakfast. She was still wearing men's clothing—part of Kitchell's outfit—and was booted to the knee, but now she wore no hat, and her enormous mane of rye colored hair was braided into long strands near to the thickness of a man's arm. The redness of her face gave a startling effect to her pale blue eyes and sandy, heavy eyebrows that easily lowered to a frown. She ate with her knife, and after pushing away her plate Wilbur observed that she drank half a tumbler of whisky and water.

The conversation between the two was tame enough. There was no common ground upon which they could meet. To her father's death—no doubt an old matter even before her rescue—she made no allusion. Her attitude toward Wilbur was one of defiance and suspicion. Only once did she relax.

"How did you come to be aboard here with these rat eaters? You're no sailor," she said abruptly. "Huh!" laughed Wilbur mirthlessly. "Huh! I was shipwrecked."

Moran smote the table with a red fist and shouted with sonorous, bell-toned laughter: "Shipwrecked—yeh? Now, that is really good! And what are you going to do now?"

"What are you going to do?" "Signal the first home bound vessel and be taken into Ellice. I've my insurance to collect (Wilbur had given her the Letty's papers) and the disaster to report."

"No, no!" said Charlie, closing his eyes and wagging his head. "No! Too much for me; no can stop. You come down side cabin; you and one piece boss No. 2 (this was Wilbur) have my chin-chin."

The odd conclave assembled about Kitchell's table—the captain, the half-masculine girl in men's clothes and the Chinaman. The conference was an angry one, Wilbur and Moran insisting that they be put aboard the steamship, Charlie refusing with calm obstinacy.

"I have my chin-chin with China boys' hair," China boy heap said no can stop steamship; heap find too much talker—talker; no stop; go fish now; go fish chop-chop; lo's heap time; go fish. I no savvy sail um boat; China boy no savvy sail um boat. I think um you savvy (and he pointed to Moran). I think um you savvy plenty heap much disa boy. Boss No. 2 no savvy sail um boat, but him savvy plenty many all same."

"And we're to stop on board your dough dish and navigate her for you?" shouted Moran, her face blazing. Charlie nodded blandly. "I thinkum yass."

"And when we get back to port," exclaimed Wilbur, "you think perhaps I—we won't make it interesting for you?" Charlie smiled.

"I thinkum ship company heap rich." "Well, get along," ordered Moran, as though the schooner was her property, "and we'll talk it over."

"China boy lika you heap pretty big," said Charlie to Moran as he went out. "You savvy sail um boat all light; wanta you fo' captain. But," he added, suddenly dropping his blind passivity as though it were a mask and for an instant allowing the wicked malevolent Cantones to come to the surface, "China boy no likee funnee business. Savvy?" Then, with the smile of a Talleyrand, he disappeared.

Moran and Wilbur were helpless for the present. They were but two against seven Chinamen. They must stay on board if the coolies wished it, and if they were to stay it was a matter of their own personal safety that the Bertha Miller should be properly navigated.

"I'll captain her," concluded Moran sullenly at the end of their talk. "You must act as mate, Mr. Wilbur. And don't get any mistaken idea into your head that because I'm a young girl and alone you are going to run things your way. I don't like funny business any better than Charlie."

"Look here," said Wilbur, complaining, "don't think I'm altogether a villain. I think you're a ripping girl. You're different from any kind of girl I ever met, of course, but you, by jingo, you're—you're splendid! There in the squall last evening, when you stood at the wheel, with your hair—"

"Oh, drop that!" said the girl contemptuously, and went up on deck. Wilbur followed, scratching his ear. Charlie was called aft and their decision announced. Moran would navigate the Bertha Miller, Wilbur and she taking the watches. Charlie promised that he would answer for the obedience of the men.

Their first concern now was to shape their course for Magdalena bay. Moran and Wilbur looked over Kitchell's charts and logbook, but the girl flung them aside disdainfully.

"It's been sailing by the dead reckoning, and his navigation is devil. Why, a cabin boy would know better, and, to end with, the chronometer is run down. I'll have to get Greenwich time by taking the altitude of a star tonight and figure out our longitude. Did you bring off your sextant?"

Wilbur shook his head. "Only the papers," he said. (To Be Continued.)

Bright's Disease and Diabetes News

Office Wine and Spirit Review, San Francisco, Nov. 3. To the Editor of the Gazette: Men of this city who are now proclaiming to the world the discovery of the cure for Bright's disease and Diabetes have asked me as one of the beneficiaries to write to some of my brother editors. Hence this letter to you. I was at first skeptical as anyone. I had reason to be. I had a clear case of chronic Bright's Disease; was ill for a year. It was not thought I would live thirty days. The President of the Pacific States Type Foundry told my wife that the newly discovered diuretic would save my life, and against my private convictions I was put on it. In six months my recovery was complete.

A friend of mine, Dr. A. J. Howe, a prominent physician, was nearly dead with Bright's Disease. On my recovery I told him and he acted the same in his case and he is now well on the road to recovery. I told one of the writers on the Call, whose mother had Diabetes. She has fully recovered. As a brother editor I personally assure you of the truth of the discovery. Thousands of lives are to be saved and I am writing in the hope that this letter will start some of them right.

Fraternally yours, R. M. WOOD, Editor. The above refers to the newly discovered Fulton Compounds, the first cures the world has ever seen for Bright's Disease and Diabetes. We are the sole agents. Ask for pamphlet. Peoples Drug Co.

A New Back for an Old One—How it is Done in Janesville.

The back aches at times with a dull, insupportable feeling making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Follow the example of this Janesville citizen.

Mrs. N. J. Casey, of 109 Prairie ave., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills proved better than any other medicine I took for my kidneys. These organs troubled me off and on for many years. Backache was the chief symptom and often caused me to suffer severely. I tried a number of remedies but continued to grow worse instead of better. I was finally persuaded to try Doan's Kidney Pills and procured a box at the People's Drug Store. I only took them a few days when I felt better. Should there be any recurrence of my trouble I know what to use."

An Animal Story For Little Folks

The Mice Who Would Be Frogs

Mr. Bullfrog sat sunning himself on the bank of the pond and wagging his throat to get it in good shape for the evening concert at Lily Pad Opera House.

Three young field mice came sauntering by looking for grasshoppers. They soon spied Mr. Bullfrog and were much attracted by the funny wriggle in his green throat. "I wish I could do that," said No. 1.

"Easy enough," granted Mr. Bullfrog.

"Yes, but we haven't the kind of throat," said No. 2.

"It's all in practice," commented Mr. Frog.

"All in practice, I assure you."

FATHER AND MOTHER PULLED HIM OUT.

Practice, my dear young mice, makes perfect. See! I do this every day for ten hours."

"Whew!" gasped No. 3. "I don't think it's worth while. I'd rather be a frog out and out and swim around in the cool pond. It's so hot out here in the fields! How do you learn to swim? Is that just practice too?"

"Purely so," said Mr. Frog, drawing himself up proudly. "Purely so. Just jump in like this, then strike out like this, and then like this, and in a few months you will find that your hair will come off. Your feet will become webbed like mine, and your months will stretch, your tails will drop out as mine did, for I had a tail once, and you will become frogs. But, my dears, remember, it's practice, practice, practice. Practice will change anything into anything."

"Thank you," said they in chorus, "we will try it at once."

Off they set to the barn, where the drinking trough stood.

"Here goes for a frog," said one, and, standing on the edge, he plunged in.

"Oh! Oh! Oh! Help, help!" he squeaked piteously. "I'm drowning. I can't practice, 'cause I can't get my breath. Mother! Father! Help!"

Just then mother and father came by and pulled him out, dripping.

"Silly thing," scolded his mother, "to try to be what you can't." —St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

He Knew Him. She—George says he feels for you. He—He always says that after he has made a touch. —Yonkers Herald.

Paine's Celery Compound

MR. T. B. PETERSON, Was Put on His Feet and Given Health by Paine's Celery Compound.

"I Was Sick--Dizzy--Worn Out." North Weymouth, Mass., Dec. 14. "Paine's Celery Compound is the best and most effective medicine I have ever taken. I was sick, dizzy, and worn out for a long time and unable to attend to business. My blood was in troublesome condition. I was advised to try Paine's Celery Compound, which I did with pleasing results, and in a short time I was able to return to my business. My blood is greatly benefited. I would advise all who are run down by overwork or who need a blood tonic to take Paine's Celery Compound. They will find that it will be a great benefit to them." —T. B. Peterson.

Bad Blood--Neuralgia. "I testify in regard to Paine's Celery Compound, that I had had blood and was subject to neuralgia, was much bothered, having tried various specifics, but to no purpose; thought I would try Paine's Celery Compound used three bottles and it cured me. I shall recommend it to all of my friends. I consider it the best medicine I ever met for nervous diseases." John Erpelmach, 616 Putnam ave., Eau Claire, Wis.

"Trace every disease, blood trouble or pain to the TRUE CAUSE. Paine is only the sign or symptom. It is idle to treat the pain itself. The only true cure for blood impurity or suffering is the cure that CURES THE TRUE CAUSE--Weakness of the INNER NERVES."

—Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth University. Famous Discoverer of Paine's Celery Compound.

The blood and all the organs of the body depend on the INNER NERVES, and Paine's Celery Compound gives the blood and the nerve system the strength to MAKE all the organs work in health and harmony.

BEARING DOWN PAINS

3647 Indiana Avenue, CHICAGO, ILL., Sept. 27, 1902.

I have been a sufferer with almost every kind of female trouble for years, but as long as I could get around and do my work I would not try patent medicines as I had no faith in them.

About eight months ago I had to take to my bed, suffering with prolapsus of the uterus, with bearing down pains and intense pains in the back. My aunt, who came to nurse me told me of Wine of Cardui and sent for a bottle. I am indeed glad that she did, for that first bottle started me on the road to recovery. In a few weeks I was out of bed and in three months I was in better health and stronger than I had been in years. I take a dose now, occasionally, of Wine of Cardui and am kept in perfect health.

Wine of Cardui brings certain relief to women suffering any symptom of female weakness and perfectly regulates the menstrual flow. Wine of Cardui stops bearing down pains by permanently relieving the irritation which weakens the ligaments holding the womb in place. The periodical discharges will be painless and healthy without continual weakening drains. Wine of Cardui will make your health right and you may trust yourself privately in your own home. At $1.00 to $6.00, we show a very large assortment in white cotton mercerized materials. Some heavy for spring wear, others of light materials. We call particular attention to these mercerized waists

At $6.00 and $8.00 we show beautiful, heavy, all-linen, white waists, with elaborate Mexican drawn work fronts, cuffs and collar tabs.

The waists this year are made with the standing collars of the same material with trimming of pique and embroidery. We have a few waists displayed in our window. It is hard for one to get away from the line of waists shown by this store.
